

Journal of the Senate

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

EIGHTEENTH DAY—THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 2000

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

Senator Staples in the Chair.

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

1 Timothy 4:8 "Godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is and of that which is to come."

Almighty and ever living God, as we close off another week of service in this place, we return home mindful that not all of the rewards of the life of faith lie on the other side of the grave. We have many of these rewards both here and now in this life; many which are intangible but precious and some very tangible and loving to behold and for which we are most thankful. Help us recognize these most profitable gifts of the life of faith and celebrate the pure joy of them with those we love. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

The Journal of the previous day was read and approved.

WHEREAS, the enthusiasm given by the fabulous Senate cheerleaders, including Senators Roseann Bentley, Betty Sims, Anita Yeckel and cheerleading coach Mary Groves Bland provided the necessary energy which cinched the "Domes" success:

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of the Capitol "Domes" basketball team.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Bentley offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 24

WHEREAS, families are an important institution in this nation and in the state of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the role that parents play in a child's life is important and the time that parents spend with children is crucial to the future of our society; and

WHEREAS, since 1965, the amount of time that parents spend with their children has dropped forty percent; and

WHEREAS, a 1993 study found that sixty-six percent of adults surveyed nationwide wanted to spend more time with their children; and

WHEREAS, in 1960, less than nineteen percent of married women were in the workforce who had a spouse present and children less than six years of age, yet today, more than sixty percent of such women are in the workplace; and

WHEREAS, currently, seventy-six percent of mothers with school-age children are in the workforce; and

WHEREAS, inflexible work schedules conflict with school hours, day care arrangements and family emergencies; and

WHEREAS, working parents, especially working mothers, require flexible working schedules so that they can take the time to tend to their children's needs; and

WHEREAS, federal law allows public employees to have flexible working schedules, so that such employees can balance the needs of work and family; and

WHEREAS, federal law prohibits employees in the private sector from having flexibility in work schedules which public employees currently enjoy; and

WHEREAS, in the interest of creating equity between private and public sector employment, and in the interest of promoting the importance of family obligations in our society, private sector employees should be allowed to have flexibility in their work schedules in order to meet their family and personal obligations; and

WHEREAS, such flexibility can be established by allowing employees to opt for paid flexible leave; and

WHEREAS, paid flexible leave would allow a private sector employee to choose to work hours in addition to a forty-hour work week, and use those extra hours as compensatory time for a shorter, future work week. Such flexibility could be met by allowing an employee to work eighty hours over a two-week period in any combination that the employee wishes, or by allowing the employee to take time-and-a-half off instead of time-and-a-half pay for any overtime hours worked. The decision to work a flexible schedule would be solely at the option of the employee, not the employer; and

WHEREAS, federal law prohibits such flexibility at the option of the private sector employee:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate of the Second Regular Session of the Ninetieth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that we respectfully urge the Congress of the United States to address this important issue by enacting legislation which would allow private sector employees to be able to choose paid flexible leave as set forth in this resolution; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution to be transmitted forthwith to the President of the United States, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the President of the United States Senate, and to each member of the Missouri Delegation of Congress.
