

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

SEVENTY-FIRST DAY—FRIDAY, MAY 11, 2001

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Maxwell in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“O LORD, you are Father; we are the clay, and you are our potter; we are all the work of your hand.” (Isaiah 64:8)

Creator God, as You created all that exists and have molded and formed us to be Your children, we celebrate our spiritual identity and share the joy of Your re-creating us daily for Your good purposes. As we leave here to return to our homes and loved ones let us rest in You and be renewed in spirit, mind and body so that we are ready to face the challenges that each new day will certainly bring us. And Father, bless our doorkeeper, Bill Wyrick, with Your comforting presence as he mourns the death of his wife; provide him strength and the memory of Your goodness and mercy. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

MISCELLANEOUS

Remarks by President Pro Tem Peter Kinder honoring former President Pro Tem Edward E. Quick at the hanging of his portrait on the Wall of the Presidents Pro Tem. Remarks were also made by Senators Scott and Mathewson.

Our ceremony today concerns the placement of a portrait in what I believe is one of the most distinguished galleries in our state. This Wall of the Presidents Pro Tem carries the images of men for whom I have always had great respect. Some of these men I know but by reputation. Others are those with whom I have served here in this chamber. I respect each of them. And I can tell you, that in the last four months, my respect for these men has grown more than anyone who is not on that wall can imagine.

The Wall of the Presidents Pro Tem is an important part of this chamber. Of course, it is also the subject of wit by our venerable Senate wags. One of them observed that the difference between earning a place on this wall and a lynching is that in the case of this wall, the pain comes before the hanging.

Be that as it may, these are great Senators who have earned their place on this wall, and in the history of this state. They are great servants to their constituents and to all citizens of Missouri. In addition to their own citizens, they have served what may be the state's toughest constituency: the Senate itself.

Today, we honor a president pro tem with whom I have worked in a way that neither of us probably ever expected. He and I are the only two men in the history of this state to have served as pro tem and co-pro tem. Together we faced a fundamental challenge that has faced no other Senate. We worked together, at the behest of our respective caucuses, and we worked to keep the Senate going while the voters were able to have a final say in the makeup of this chamber.

We did not always agree, but we never deeply disagreed. Through it all, he was an honorable man and conducted himself in a way that put the best interests of the Senate ahead of his own interests. That is the mark of a good leader.

I have never served as Senate Majority Floor Leader. I have never served as Senate Minority Floor Leader. I have served as Senate President Pro Tem. The Senator we honor here today is, to my knowledge, the only Senator to have served this body in all three of those leadership positions. In each, this Senator has proved he is a worthy leader and an honorable colleague. He is a true Senator and is deserving of the place of honor this body has assured him on the Wall of the Presidents Pro Tem.

Ladies and Gentlemen: the portrait of the Senator from Clay, Senator Ed Quick.
