Sen. Gary Nodler Announces $300,000 in Tax Credits

JEFFERSON CITY – Sen. Gary Nodler, R-Joplin, in conjunction with the Department of Economic Development announced today, the approval of up to $300,000 in remediation tax credits to the Neosho Historic Office Building, L.L.C.

Through the Brownfield Redevelopment Program, the Neosho Historic Office Building, located at 201 North Washington Street, will receive tax credits to facilitate the development of this property into approximately 35,000 square feet of office space.

“I appreciate the department’s positive response to this project,” Sen. Nodler said. “I believe that these tax credits will lead to employment opportunities in Neosho and there could not be a better time for this economic shot in the arm.”

The Brownfield Program provides financial incentives for the redevelopment of contaminated commercial or industrial sites that are abandoned or underutilized.
