

JOURNAL OF THE SENATE
NINETY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY
OF THE
STATE OF MISSOURI
FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 8, 2003

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 noon by Lieutenant Governor Joe Maxwell.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“He has showed you, O man, what is good, and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness and to walk humbly with your God.” (Micah 6:8)

Gracious God, we come to this hallowed chamber, some new, many experienced, to face one of the most challenging fiscal years this Senate has faced. We ask Your blessing on each here to be all that You require of us. So we pray for Your guidance in all the decisions we must make. As we do so, make us ever mindful how to pass equitable laws that provide justice and seek to show kindness among each other and the most needy in our state. And help us to seek You daily in prayer and meditation and walk humbly with You through these halls. All this we ask in Your Holy Name. Amen.

The Cleveland Junior Naval Academy Color Guard, St. Louis, presented the Colors.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

The National Anthem was performed by a trio from the Cleveland Junior Naval Academy.

The President of the Senate stated that the Rules of the Senate would be the Missouri Senate Rules of the 2nd Regular Session of the Ninety-first General Assembly until temporary or permanent rules are adopted.

Senator Gibbons announced that photographers from KOLR-TV, the Jefferson City News Tribune, KMIZ-TV, KOMU-TV, the Springfield News Leader, the Senate and guests had been given permission to take flash pictures and to video in the Senate Chamber and gallery today.

Senator Gibbons submitted the following appointments of officers for the temporary organization, which were read:

President Pro Tem Peter Kinder
Secretary of Senate Terry L. Spieler
Sergeant-at-Arms Glenn Pound
Doorkeeper Ken Holman

Senator Gibbons requested unanimous consent of the Senate that the above named officers be elected as temporary officers until permanent officers are elected, which request was granted.

MESSAGES FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

The President laid before the Senate the following communication from the Secretary of State, which was read:

Senator Kinder was escorted to the dais by Senator Yeckel.

Senator Kinder subscribed to the oath of office of President Pro Tem, administered by the Honorable Judge Byron Kinder.

President Pro Tem Kinder assumed the dais and addressed the members of the Senate.

Good afternoon and welcome back as we begin our challenging task of transacting the public’s business in another tough budget year. I am delighted to see each of you, as I know you are delighted to be here.

Today, we have sworn in 17 members of this August body. We bid each of you a warm welcome. To our returning colleagues, we are again delighted to welcome you back as part of our Senate family. And to our twelve new members, we are most pleased to welcome you to the Missouri Senate. Service in this body is an honor and a privilege accorded to only a few.

Look around this magnificent chamber. On the occasion corresponding to this day a year ago, I focused our attention on our magnificent renovation, then newly completed, the results of which are so beautiful to behold. I asked us all to reflect on the wisdom of Sir Winston Churchill, who said:

“First we shape our buildings. Then they shape us.”

Surely we must count ourselves fortunate to be allowed to work in a room that has taken its place among the most magnificent legislative chambers in the world.

But look around at another feature of this chamber. You will see that there is no line of demarcation between the members of the two great political parties. We don’t have seating by parties in the Missouri Senate, and as far as I know, never have had. This is as it should be, for as we are fond of repeating, each one of us is a senator and, now that you’re here, you are an irreplaceable part of our Senate family.

Together, we face daunting challenges. However, as a state we have faced difficult times before. One hundred and forty years ago, our nation was sundered by a great Civil War. A war that divided Missouri as much as any state. A war that I might add, has defined our politics in the nearly 14 decades since, given the fact that, as one historian said, "You vote where and as your great-grand-daddy fought."

Only through the perseverance and resolve of our first Republican president, Abraham Lincoln, did we endure as a nation. Facing the greatest of obstacles, we won the war that re-defined the American experiment and unified the nation paving the way for the great union of 50 states to which it has evolved this day.

As others have before us, today, in this spirit of unity, we can and we must come together to meet the challenges that face us.

Last year, I spent a great deal of time traveling the state, making calls on various individuals. I want to tell you about one visit in the City of Springfield, at a company called Positronic Industries, a high-tech manufacturer of electronic components for various industries, including telecommunications.

The CEO made an enormous impression on this senator, and I want to tell you why.

Jack Gentry is the founder of this fine company, which employs 400 people in our state in manufacturing, and 720 people worldwide.

Mr. Gentry told me that he and his colleagues formed an organization called the Southwest Area Manufacturers Association that must remain ever vigilant, he said, and I quote:

"... in order to protect ourselves from what the politicians are trying to do to us."

I found bracing the blunt-spokenness of this entrepreneurial hero, who got his start as a fighter pilot in the South Pacific during World War II. Could it be that in Jack Gentry's refreshing candor, I had stumbled across a clue to why Missouri finds itself in such an economic mess today?

ITEM: A recent national report tells us that Missouri is one of only nine or so states that remains mired in recession, as the national economy expands at a growth-rate of about 3 percent.

ITEM: From Gov. Holden's own administration, we had the report last August that Missouri led the nation in the loss of manufacturing jobs, with 55,000 jobs lost in the previous year.

In November, another report by the same department of economic development updated us with a new figure: We have lost 77,000 jobs.

It is no honor for Missouri to lead the nation in the loss of manufacturing jobs. In this lamentable category, we are Number One.

ITEM: Last year brought us the terrible news, via the Ford Motor Company, that their plant in Bridgeton, home these last 55 years to 2,600 high-paying UAW jobs, will be closed in just a few years.

St. Louis, long second only to Detroit in auto manufacturing, is slipping.

ITEM: Last month brought to my office representatives of Ford, saying the continued survival of their huge Claycomo plant near Kansas City is endangered by certain local taxing practices – policies over which you and I have no small amount of influence.

ITEM: Perhaps you have letters on your desk, as do I, from a trucking executive or other business leader, who relates that the continued survival of the company is threatened by workers compensation costs spiraling out of control. Or perhaps you have heard, as have I, from physicians who are stunned at the exploding costs of medical malpractice insurance that are doubling, or quadrupling, almost overnight, even with no change in claims history. Or perhaps you have heard from a nursing-home operator or other small business owner, who says spiraling insurance costs are deadly threats to his or her continuance as an employer in our state.

To revisit just one of these examples, if you inquire into the matter, you will learn that in the case of the Bridgeton Ford plant, it costs between $150 and $300 more per Explorer – with one emerging from the assembly line every minute -- to manufacture in St. Louis than it does in Louisville, Ky. Their Kentucky plant is staying open.

Facts, as that great Missourian Harry Truman said, are stubborn things. These are facts. We ignore them at our peril. I ask that we pull together to tackle these issues so that when we leave here on the 16th of May, of us it can be said that we took action to better Missouri's economic climate – to take down the sign that has been posted saying, "Missouri is unfriendly to business" and replace it with one that says "we welcome jobs and opportunity and we are very much open for business".

As you well know, we confront a budget situation more grim than any Missourian has seen in the last 50 years. I believe, and hope that you agree, that this shortfall is directly related to the startling economic facts I have just cited.

We must acknowledge those facts are also a result of a state government that went on a spending spree during the last decade, as revenues grew smartly. Now the crunch time has arrived and the bill has come due. And the bill has come due in the same few months that we have seen the voters twice reject proposals put to them, once in August and again in November, to increase taxes.

I pledge to work together with one and all to meet this difficult challenge, to meet our obligation to deliver a budget in balance and on time.

In doing so, we as lawmakers must always remember three requirements of truly representative government:

Sound policy must come before politics;

Reality must come before rhetoric;

And taxpayers must always come before taxes."

The governors' proposal to use $350 million from an untested method of selling tobacco bonds in order to balance this year's budget raises a host of questions that must be answered. Last session we approved $50 million in bond appropriations. This fiscal year, the governor wants to use $350 million in tobacco bond expenditures.

While it is still possible that the governor and the Legislature could reach an agreement on the issue of tobacco bonds, the governor's handling of the matter, to this point, has frankly made it less likely.

A recent New York Times article told of other states that have gone his route, only to see their states' credit ratings suffer a downgrade. An awareness of this risk must accompany all our deliberations on this issue.

Moreover, the governor needs to be absolutely forthcoming with the public and with us about the added risk associated with his new, "hybrid" approach to selling tobacco bonds. Under the governor's new plan, all the risk associated with the sale of the bonds will be placed directly on Missouri taxpayers, rather than transferring that risk to the bondholders as originally proposed.

Further, don't forget that because of a pending lawsuit between the City of St. Louis and the tobacco companies, there is a strong chance that as early as next year, Missouri's share of the tobacco settlement that is supposed to be paying off this new debt, in the hundreds of millions, simply might not be there.

As you can see, plenty of answers will be needed before we agree to head down this road.

The governor has informed us that we face a $300 million shortfall in the current fiscal year, and as much as $1 billion in the 2004 fiscal year. With this news in mind, last week he announced $67 million in cuts and withholdings, and re-shuffled about 700 jobs in state government. To this mix he proposes to close $100 million in what he calls "corporate tax loopholes."

It is with great interest that I await his 2004 budget proposal, to be delivered in his address to us one week from today.

Let us also remember that last year, this Legislature did yeoman's work in meeting the governor's budget requests, based on projections consented to by that administration. Now, halfway through that budget, the governor faces tough choices that have already faced the Missouri General Assembly.

On the issue of how our state handles vulnerable children entrusted to us, we cannot stand idly by, blinded by parochialism, while families in this state are torn apart by the public policies that are intended to protect them.

Last year, I appointed a special committee and charged it with investigating the policies of the Division of Family Services within the Department of Social Services. Beginning in November, this committee held four hearings: In St. Louis, we heard four-and-a-half hours of testimony from witnesses; in Kansas City, we heard three-and-a-half hours of witnesses; and then in Springfield, our committee convened at 6 p.m. for our third hearing. Six and a half hours and 83 witnesses later, the hearing adjourned at 12:30 a.m.

This we followed with another all-afternoon hearing in the Senate lounge last month.

If I may summarize what we heard, in 18 hours of hearings, it was an astonishing outpouring of anguish, tears, bitterness, frustration and despair. We heard witness after witness tell us that our current system has ruined lives, trampled on constitutional rights and torn families apart. Most of this was confirmed by the inquiry launched by the governor's study and included in their report. Children who should be removed from homes weren't, while other children, who should remain in an intact family, were ruthlessly taken and placed into foster care. The testimony was so lopsided against our system, including DFS, judges and juvenile officers, that had our hearings been a prize fight the referees would have stopped it.

Reform legislation will be proposed. I need your help. But far more important, the people of Missouri need your help in vindicating the constitutional rights of our citizens and in cleaning up this terrible blot on our state.

Incidentally, for any who want to take the time, we videotaped all the hearings and have also re-produced the audio on compact discs. I encourage all of you to avail yourselves of the chance to become acquainted with this haunting testimony, as a prelude to the action we must take.

Reform legislation will also be forthcoming on the issue of abuse that occurs in nursing homes, and this will need to be accomplished carefully, so that bad operators are dealt with while good ones aren't unduly penalized or forced to close.

The value of a society can be judged in many ways, none more compelling than how it cares for its oldest, and its youngest members. Let us move forward to improve the way our state cares for both.

In doing so, let us note that no challenge we face is greater than providing educational opportunities for all Missouri's children. Public schools are essential in this effort. Public charter schools are essential in this effort. Private schools are essential in this effort. Likewise, we honor the growing number of our citizens who are choosing the home-school option.

I believe we have an educational emergency – an unfolding catastrophe – in our two great cities. Yes, there are problems in other districts across Missouri. I am open to discussing them. But it seems we long ago became accustomed to reports of 60 percent dropout rates, even as we build more prisons to house the exploding population of these dropouts.

Last week, a published report informed us that in the city of St. Louis, no fewer than 6,000 school children will be informed that under the new federal Leave No Child Behind Act, they have the right to transfer to another school because their schools – 17 of them in St. Louis alone – are failing them. This is more schools than are failing in the District of Columbia, which has long been acknowledged to be one of the most dysfunctional urban school systems in America.

It is clear that for these children the hour is late, the need for action is critical, and all approaches aimed at giving parents more choices must be on the table.

Another year of failure is more than these students can stand. They won't get another chance at education. We must act and act boldly to try new approaches to save another generation, yet again, from the failing schools in which current government policy has trapped them.

Meeting our challenges won't be easy. It won't be painless. Yet together, working across party lines as we often have before, including these last two years, we can bring Missouri through the challenges we face. I invite the governor and all our members to join us as we do the tough work of meeting these daunting challenges. If we do, then perhaps Jack Gentry, and the other Jack Gentrys across Missouri, will not fear what politicians have done to us, but will prosper in what has been accomplished for us, Missourians, and Americans, one and all.

President Maxwell resumed the Chair.

Senator Kinder nominated Terry L. Spieler for Secretary of the Senate.

No further nominations being made, Ms. Spieler was elected by the following vote:

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senators Gross, Klindt, Steelman, Vogel, Mathewson, Goode and Kennedy offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 1

Rejecting the amount of increase in compensation for public officials as recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials.

WHEREAS, in November 1994, the people of Missouri established in the Missouri Constitution an independent citizen's commission that was given primary responsibility to establish a schedule of compensation for public officials based upon a review and study of the duties of elected state officials, judges and members of the General Assembly; and

WHEREAS, the Commission has faithfully undertaken its responsibility and submitted a compensation schedule that provides for an increase in compensation for the affected public officials in the amount of 5.8% and an increase for judges in the amount of $6,000 per year; and

WHEREAS, the percentage increase recommended by the Citizen's Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials was based upon recommendations made by the Personnel Advisory Board and the Missouri Commission on Total Compensation for all state employees for fiscal year 2004; and

WHEREAS, the Citizen's Commission report makes clear that the Commission intended public officials should be treated the same as all other state employees; and

WHEREAS, the increases ultimately adopted for all state employees may well not be those recommended by the Commission when its schedule was approved and filed; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly believes that public officials and judges should not receive any cost-of-living increase in compensation, if at all, in excess of the average salary adjustment provided to other state employees; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Constitution clearly provides that the recommendations of the Commission are subject to appropriations, and therefor may be reduced or rejected by the General Assembly and no increase shall take effect unless and until appropriated:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate of the First Regular Session of the Ninety-second General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that we hereby reject the Compensation Schedule of the 2002 Report and Compensation Schedule of the Missouri Citizens Commission on Compensation for Elected Officials dated, November 27, 2002.

Read 1st time.

Rule 28. The duties of the standing and statutory committees of the senate are as follows:

1. The Committee on Administration shall superintend and have sole and complete control of all financial obligations and business affairs of the senate, the assignment of offices and seats, and the supervision of certain designated employees. The committee shall be authorized to employ an administrator, who shall be provided with office space as designated by the committee. The administrator or the secretary of the senate may be authorized to act for the committee, but only in the manner and to the extent as may have previously been authorized by the committee with such authorization entered in the minutes of the committee. No voucher calling for payment from the contingent fund of the senate shall be drawn, nor shall any valid obligation exist against the contingent fund until the same shall have been approved by the committee or its administrator and be recorded in the minutes thereof. All vouchers must be signed by the chairman of the committee or the administrator, if so authorized. The committee or its administrator shall provide for the receiving and receipt of all supplies, equipment and furnishings purchased for the account of the senate, and the distribution thereof. The administrator shall keep a detailed running account of all transactions and shall open his records for inspection to any senator who so requests. All employees other than elected officials of the senate and employees of the individual senators, shall be selected by the committee, who shall control their tenure, set their compensation, assign their duties and exercise complete supervision over them. When necessary, the committee shall assign office space and seats in the senate chamber.

2. The Committee on Aging, Families [and], Mental and Public Health shall consider and report upon all matters referred to it concerning the preservation of the quality of life for senior citizens, nursing home and boarding home operations, alternative care programs for the elderly, family and [children] children's issues, mental health, mental retardation and developmental disabilities. It shall also consider, examine and report upon all matters and bills referred to it concerning income maintenance, social services, health care programs, alcoholism and drug abuse, medicaid, child support enforcement, disease control and prevention, hospital operations and alternative state health care proposals.

3. The Committee on Agriculture, Conservation, Parks and [Tourism] Natural Resources shall consider all questions and report on all bills, resolutions, regulatory matters, and all other matters referred to it relating to animals, animal disease, pest control, agriculture, the state park system, conservation of the state's natural resources, soil and water, wildlife[,] and game refuges[, and tourism and the promotion of tourism as a state industry].

4. The Committee on Appropriations shall report upon all bills and measures and questions referred to it pertaining to general appropriations and disbursement of public money.

5. [The Committee on Civil and Criminal Jurisprudence shall consider, examine and report upon all matters and bills referred to it concerning civil procedure and all matters relating to the criminal laws of the state, criminal costs and all related matters. The committee shall also examine and report upon all matters and bills referred to it relating to probation or parole of persons sentenced under the criminal laws of the state.

6.] The Committee on Commerce and the Environment shall consider all questions and report on all bills, resolutions and all other matters referred to it relating to the development of state commerce [and], the commercial sector, consumer protection, the development and conservation of energy resources and the disposal of solid, hazardous and nuclear wastes and other matters relating to environmental pollution.

6. The Committee on Economic Development, Tourism and Local Government shall consider all questions and report on all bills referred to it relating to the promotion of economic development, tourism and the promotion of tourism as a state industry, community and business development, county government, township organizations and political subdivisions.

7. The Committee on Education shall examine into and report upon all matters referred to it relating to all matters of education in the state, including the public schools, libraries, programs and institutions of higher learning, and shall examine and report on all propositions, memorials, petitions, or bills relating thereto.

8. The Committee on Financial and Governmental Organization, Veterans' Affairs and Elections shall consider all questions and report on all bills, resolutions and all other matters referred to it relating to banks and banking, savings and loan associations and other financial institutions in the state. The committee shall also examine and report upon all bills and matters referred to it relating to the reorganization, establishment, consolidation or abolition of departments, boards, bureaus and commissions of state government, the internal operation of any state agency and the effect of federal legislation upon any state agency. The committee shall consider all questions and report on all bills, resolutions and on all matters referred to it relating to election law and to military organizations and all matters relating to the department of corrections including the state's penal institutions and training facilities and the sentencing of people to the department of corrections.

9. The Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight shall consider all bills, except regular appropriation bills, which require new appropriations or expenditures of appropriated funds in excess of $100,000, or which reduce such funds by that amount during any of the first three years that public funds will be used to fully implement the provisions of the Act. Any such senate bill, after having been approved by the regular standing committee to which it has been assigned and after the same has been perfected and ordered printed by the senate, shall thereafter be referred to the Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight for its consideration prior to its submission to the senate for final passage thereof by the senate. Any such house bill after having been reported by the regular standing committee to which it was assigned shall be referred to the Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight for its consideration prior to its being considered by the senate for third reading and final passage. Any senate or house bill, amended so as to increase expenditures or reduce revenue in excess of $100,000 during any of the first three years that public funds will be used to fully implement its provisions shall upon timely motion be referred or re-referred to the Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight. The author or first-named sponsor of a bill referred to the Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight shall be entitled to a hearing on his/her bill but such committee hearing shall be limited to the reception of testimony presented by the author or first-named sponsor in person and none other. The Committee on Governmental Accountability and Fiscal Oversight may recommend the passage of a bill subject to the adoption of an amendment specifying a certain effective date proposed by the committee, and if such an amendment is not adopted the bill shall again be referred to that committee. The committee shall also hear all bills referred to it relating to budget reform, governmental efficiency and management and shall review instances of government waste, fraud and abuse.

[9.] 10. The Committee on Gubernatorial Appointments shall consider and report upon all gubernatorial appointments referred to it.

[10. The Committee on Insurance and Housing shall take into consideration all matters referred to it relating to life, accident, indemnity and other forms of insurance, and all matters relating to urban renewal and housing.

11. The Committee on Interstate Cooperation shall consider all matters and examine and report on all bills and other matters referred to it which relate to interstate problems and cooperation.

12.] 11. The Committee on the Judiciary and Civil and Criminal Jurisprudence shall consider all questions and bills relating to the judicial department of the state[,] including civil procedure and the criminal laws of this state, criminal costs and all related matters; and shall examine the constitutionality of all bills referred to it by the senate, and examine into and report upon all matters and bills relating to the practice in the courts of this state and in which questions of law or equity may arise, and may consider, examine and report on all matters and bills referred to the committee relating to workers' compensation. The committee shall also examine and report upon all matters and bills referred to it relating to probation or parole of persons sentenced under the criminal laws of the state.

[13. The Committee on Labor and Industrial Relations shall examine all matters and bills referred to it in relation to labor management, fair employment standards, workers' compensation and employment security within the state and shall examine any bills referred to it relating to industrial development and other matters relating to urban areas.

14. The Committee on Local Government and Economic Development shall consider all questions and report on all bills, resolutions and all other matters referred to it relating to community and business development, county government, township organizations and political subdivisions, and all bills referred to it relating to the promotion of economic development.

15.] 12. The Committee on Legislative Research (statutory) shall perform its statutory duties and other assignments made.

[16.] 13. The Committee on Pensions and General Laws shall consider and report on all bills, resolutions and all other matters concerning retirement, pensions and pension plans which may be referred to it. The committee shall also examine and report upon all matters and bills referred to it concerning general topics.

[17. The Committee on Public Health and Welfare shall consider, examine and report upon all matters and bills referred to it concerning income maintenance, social services, health care programs, alcoholism and drug abuse, medicaid, child support enforcement, disease control and prevention, hospital operation and alternative state health care proposals.

18.] 14. The Committee on Rules, Joint Rules, Resolutions and Ethics shall consider and report on all rules for the government of the senate and joint rules when requested by the senate, shall consider, examine and report upon all matters and bills referred to it relating to ethics and the conduct of public officials and employees, shall recommend to the Senate the rules by which investigations and disciplinary proceedings will be conducted, and shall examine and report upon all resolutions and other matters which may be appropriately referred to it. The committee shall see that bills and amendments are properly perfected and printed. The committee shall examine all Truly Agreed To and Finally Passed bills carefully, and report that the printed copies furnished the senators are correct. Upon the written request of the sponsor or floor handler of a bill, the committee may recommend that any such bill on the calendars for perfection or house bills on third reading be called up or considered out of order in which the bill appears on that calendar. A recommendation to consider bills out of order shall require approval by a majority of the committee with the concurrence of two-thirds of the senate members. No floor debate shall be allowed on the motion to adopt the committee report.

The Committee shall examine bills placed on the Consent Calendar and may, by majority vote, remove any bill from the consent calendar within the time period prescribed by Rule 45, that it determines is too controversial to be treated as a consent bill.

15. The Committee on Small Business, Insurance and Industrial Relations shall take into consideration all matters referred to it relating to the ownership and operation of small businesses; life, accident, indemnity and other forms of insurance; and all matters relating to urban renewal and housing. The committee shall also take into consideration and report on all bills relating to labor management, fair employment standards, workers' compensation and employment security within the state and shall examine any bills referred to it relating to industrial development and other matters relating to urban areas.

[19. The Committee on State Budget Control shall consider all bills, except regular appropriation bills, which require new appropriations or expenditures of appropriated funds in excess of $100,000, or which reduce such funds by that amount during any of the first three years that public funds will be used to fully implement the provisions of the Act. Any such senate bill, after having been approved by the regular standing committee to which it has been assigned and after the same has been perfected and ordered printed by the senate, shall thereafter be referred to the Committee on State Budget Control for its consideration prior to its submission to the senate for final passage thereof by the senate. Any such house bill after having been reported by the regular standing committee to which it was assigned shall be referred to the Committee on State Budget Control for its consideration prior to its being considered by the senate for third reading and final passage. Any senate or house bill, amended so as to increase expenditures or reduce revenue in excess of $100,000 during any of the first three years that public funds will be used to fully implement its provisions shall upon timely motion be referred or re-referred to the Committee on State Budget Control. The author or first-named sponsor of a bill referred to the Committee on State Budget Control shall be entitled to a hearing on his bill but such committee hearing shall be limited to the reception of testimony presented by the author or first-named sponsor in person and none other. The Committee on State Budget Control may recommend the passage of a bill subject to the adoption of an amendment specifying a certain effective date proposed by the committee, and if such an amendment is not adopted the bill shall again be referred to that committee.

20.] 16. The Committee on Transportation shall consider, examine and report upon all matters and bills referred to it concerning roads, highways, bridges, airports and aviation, railroads, port authorities, and other means of transportation and matters relating to motor vehicles and drivers' licenses.

[21.] 17. The Committee on Ways and Means shall consider, examine and report upon all matters and bills referred to it concerning the revenue and public debt of the state, and interest thereon, the assessment of real and personal property, the classification of property for taxation purposes and gaming.

Rule 49. Up to one thousand copies of all bills and joint resolutions shall be printed after their first reading and before a second reading is permitted, unless otherwise ordered. Bills and resolutions for the senate shall be printed in pamphlet form, as for the last and previous sessions, in page size eight and one-half by eleven inches. A copy of the printed bill shall be attached to the original bill when it is referred to committee, and thereafter the original and the printed copy thereof shall be kept together. The bill shall not be re-typed, but upon perfection a printed copy of the bill with all amendments or substitutes adopted incorporated shall be attached to the original bill. Upon final passage by the senate, the original, with a printed copy of the bill as perfected attached thereto, shall be transmitted to the house. Upon final passage by both houses the bill shall be printed as truly agreed and finally passed, shall be signed by the presiding officers in printed form, and shall be presented to the governor in printed form with appropriate spaces for signatures, and such printed bill, appropriately signed, shall constitute the original roll for the bill."; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the temporary rules with the above amendments be adopted as the permanent rules of the Missouri Senate for the First Regular Session of the 92nd General Assembly.
