Sen. Frank Barnitz Welcomes Farm Bureau Youth from Crawford County to the State Capitol

JEFFERSON CITY – State Sen. Frank Barnitz, D-Lake Spring, last week welcomed to the Missouri State Capitol members of the Missouri Farm Bureau Youth Leadership from Crawford County. Four youths were accompanied by one chaperone as part of the Missouri Farm Bureau's annual Youth Leadership Day in Jefferson City.

During their visit to the Capitol, the group was able to see the Missouri Senate in action from the senate chamber's side gallery. Sen. Barnitz took the time to introduce to the Senate the Steelville youths: Emily Borgmann, Tyler Richter, Kyle Wallen, and Megan Woods. He also introduced the chaperone, Kim Gibbs.

"It was an honor to introduce the Steelville youths and their chaperone to the Missouri Senate for Youth Leadership Day," said Sen. Barnitz, who represents the 16th Senatorial District. "Getting young people interested in state government is a great example of how Farm Bureau plays an important role in the lives of rural Missourians."

Approximately 375 high school students and chaperones from 65 counties participated in Youth Leadership Day activities.
