Member of 21st District Visits Sen. Stouffer's Capitol Office for Job Shadowing

JEFFERSON CITY – State Sen. Bill Stouffer, R-Napton, was pleased to host a member of the 21st District in a job shadowing experience on Thursday, Feb. 2. Amber Sandner of Excello joined Stouffer in the Capitol and gained first-hand knowledge of his legislative duties.

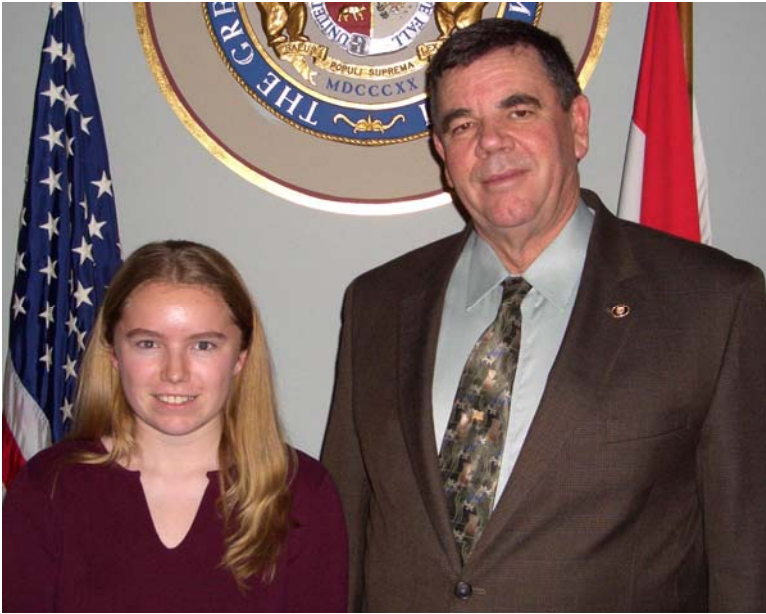

“It was a pleasure to have Amber join me in Jefferson City to learn about the everyday business of being a state senator,” Stouffer said. “Witnessing the democratic process in action is an important experience, and I encourage all members of the 21st District to value their role in state government.”

Sandner is junior class president at Macon High School, vice president of the Macon chapter of Future Business Leaders of America, and a member of the high school math club. She also has won several national awards and is involved with the Macon County Republican Women.

“Amber already has been very involved in her community and I know she will have an outstanding career in whatever field she chooses to pursue,” Stouffer said. “I hope that other high school students in the 21st District choose to take part in our job-shadowing program.”
