

MISSOURI SENATE

JEFFERSON CITY

Jason Crowell
27th Senate District

CAPITOL BUILDING, ROOM 323
JEFFERSON CITY, MO 65101

For Immediate Release:
May 12, 2006

Contact: Andrew Green
(573) 751-2459

Sen. Crowell Promotes Teacher Appreciation Week

JEFFERSON CITY— Sen. Jason Crowell, R-Cape Girardeau, urges Missourians to acknowledge the contributions of educators this week in commemoration of National Teacher Appreciation Week. The theme of this year's celebration is "Teachers help us explore the possibilities."

"Teachers touch so many people on a daily basis, and the lessons learned while in a classroom and the manner with which the lessons are taught stay with individuals for a long time," Crowell said.

Crowell encourages Missourians to help spread the message and let their favorite teachers know just how much they are appreciated.

"This is a great opportunity to get the community to give back a little something to those who are steadfast contributors to many of our daily lives," Crowell said. "Teachers deserve a salute for their commitment to our children's education, and I hope you take the time to drop a note or an e-mail to that special teacher in your life. The gesture will be valued."

-END-