Sen. Griesheimer Named Chairman of Panel on Gaming & Wagering

JEFFERSON CITY — State Sen. John Griesheimer, R-Washington, was named chairman of the Joint Committee on Gaming and Wagering today.

The bi-partisan panel, which consists of five Senate members and five House members, meets throughout the year and studies and makes recommendations to the Legislature on issues pertaining to state-authorized gaming and wagering activities, such as the lottery and riverboat casinos.

“I am pleased to be named chairman of this committee and to continue the important work of this panel,” said Sen. Griesheimer, who previously served as the committee’s vice-chair.

Sen. Griesheimer, who represents Franklin, Warren and West St. Louis counties, will serve a one-year term. He also serves as chairman of the Senate’s Economic Development, Tourism and Local Government Committee and serves on several other Senate and joint committees.
