Sen. Jason Crowell Welcomes Jackson Students

JEFFERSON CITY – Sen. Jason Crowell, R-Cape Girardeau, recently welcomed two groups of students from Jackson to the Capitol for a visit. Sen. Crowell regularly hosts tours for students to talk to them about his role in the Senate and the legislative process.

“I hope that these students enjoyed their visit as much as I enjoyed meeting them,” said Sen. Crowell. “It is always a pleasure to talk to these classes and show them what I do here in Jefferson City.”

A group from Immaculate Conception School met with Sen. Crowell on the Senate floor on April 15.

On April 16, students from St. Paul Lutheran met with Crowell. Here, the group is on the grand staircase in the Capitol.
