Senator Jack Goodman Re-elected to Leadership Position

JEFFERSON CITY – Senator Jack Goodman (R-Mt. Vernon) last week (11/6) was unanimously re-elected by his peers to serve as Assistant Majority Floor Leader of the Missouri Senate Majority Caucus.

“Jack is a strong voice who stands up to special interests for his district and the people of Missouri,” presumptive Senate Leader Charlie Shields (R-St. Joseph) said. “His continued leadership as Assistant Majority Floor Leader will help us continue to protect taxpayers, especially in these uncertain times.”

Senator Goodman was re-elected to his position in a party caucus in the state Capitol following last Tuesday’s General Election. He will work in concert with floor leader Sen. Kevin Engler (R-Farmington) to help set legislative priorities for their party and lead the effort to advance said priorities.

“Once again, I am honored to be selected by my peers to serve in this important leadership position,” Sen. Goodman said. “The legislative session is just two months away, and I am looking forward to continuing our important work in improving the lives of Missourians across the state.”

The First Regular session of the 95th General Assembly will convene in Jefferson City on Jan. 7.
