The current statewide court automation system is anticipated to no longer be capable of receiving critical system updates by July 31, 2021. A new case management system will need to be in place by that date. This decision item would give the Judiciary the ability to move forward and keep the risk of security breaches and system failure within standard levels. In addition, this funding would enable technological innovation that will make the courts more effective and efficient. Governor and House did not recommend funding. Senate recommended funding.

The current statewide court automation system is anticipated to no longer be capable of receiving critical system updates by July 31, 2021. A new case management system will need to be in place by that date. This decision item would give the Judiciary the ability to move forward and keep the risk of security breaches and system failure within standard levels. In addition, this funding would enable technological innovation that will make the courts more effective and efficient. Governor and House did not recommend funding. Senate recommended funding.

The current statewide court automation system is anticipated to no longer be capable of receiving critical system updates by July 31, 2021. A new case management system will need to be in place by that date. This decision item would give the Judiciary the ability to move forward and keep the risk of security breaches and system failure within standard levels. In addition, this funding would enable technological innovation that will make the courts more effective and efficient. Governor and House did not recommend funding. Senate recommended funding.
