Section A. Section 452.355, RSMo, is repealed and one new 2 section enacted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 452.355,
3 to read as follows:

452.355. 1. Unless otherwise indicated, the court
2 from time to time after considering all relevant factors 3 including the financial resources of both parties, the 4 merits of the case and the actions of the parties during the 5 pendency of the action, may order a party to pay a 6 reasonable amount for the cost to the other party of 7 maintaining or defending any proceeding pursuant to sections
8 452.300 to 452.415 and for attorney's fees, including sums 9 for legal services rendered and costs incurred prior to the 10 commencement of the proceeding and after entry of a final 11 judgment. The court may order that the amount be paid 12 directly to the attorney, who may enforce the order in the 13 attorney's name.

14 2. In actions brought to enforce a temporary order or 15 final judgment of the court in any proceeding pursuant to 16 sections 452.300 to 452.415, excluding any proceeding
17 described in subsection 3 of this section, the court shall 18 order the party against whom enforcement is sought, if

EXPLANATION-Matter enclosed in bold-faced brackets [thus] in this bill is not enacted and is intended to be omitted in the law.

19 requested and for good cause shown, to pay the cost of the 20 suit to the party seeking enforcement, including attorney's 21 fees. The court may order that the amount be paid directly 22 to the attorney, who may enforce the order in the attorney's 23 name.

24 [2.] 3. In any proceeding in which the failure to pay
25 child support pursuant to a temporary order or final 26 judgment is an issue, if the court finds that the obligor
27 has failed, without good cause, to comply with such order or 28 decree to pay the child support, the court shall order the 29 obligor, if requested and for good cause shown, to pay a 30 reasonable amount for the cost of the suit to the obligee,
31 including reasonable sums for legal services. The court may 32 order that the amount be paid directly to the attorney, who 33 may enforce the order in his name.

34 [3.] 4. For purposes of this section, an "obligor" is 35 a person owing a duty of support and an "obligee" is a 36 person to whom a duty of support is owed.

37 [4.] 5. For purposes of this section, "good cause"
38 includes, but shall not be limited to, any substantial 39 reason why the obligor is unable to pay the child support as 40 ordered. Good cause does not exist if the obligor purposely
41 maintains his inability to pay.
