DESCRIPTION

The proposed legislation would provide that in a jury trial for murder in the first degree in which the death penalty was not waived, if the jury is unable to unanimously decide or agree on the imposition of the death penalty, then the judge would declare the punishment to be life imprisonment without eligibility for probation, parole, or release except by act of the Governor. The jury would be so instructed before the case is submitted.

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space.
