FISCAL ANALYSIS

ASSUMPTION

Officials from the Office of Prosecution Services and the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education assume the proposed legislation would have no fiscal impact on prosecutors.

Officials of the Office of State Courts Administrator (CTS) assume the proposed legislation would authorize county commissions to create local crime reduction funds and authorize courts to require misdemeanor defendants to pay into the local funds amounts up to $1,000 as part of a restorative justice program. The proposal does not specify who would be responsible for receiving and accounting for what would be in most cases installment payments. Since the Sheriff and Prosecutor would be the beneficiaries of the fund, CTS officials assume one or the other of these offices would provide these services, and state-paid court clerks would not be required to do this. If this assumption is valid, there would be no appreciable state cost. However, if the court clerks are required to provide this service, there would be a state cost in direct proportion to the volume of transactions.

CTS officials assume traffic cases are usually misdemeanors, and if as an alternative to a traffic conviction, a defendant can get a suspended sentence for payment into the crime reduction fund, the potential volume could be in the hundreds of thousands of cases.

CTS officials assume if cases that would otherwise have resulted in a conviction are shifted to a suspended imposition or execution of sentence, it is likely to result in the loss of revenue from fines to schools, crime victims' compensation, law enforcement training, and other earmarked funds.

CTS cannot predict what changes in the practice of law and the exercise of prosecutorial discretion may result from the passage of the proposal.

Officials from the Department of Corrections (DOC) assume the fiscal impact due to passage of this bill is unknown. This bill authorizes the creation of a county crime reduction fund and probationers can be required to pay up to $1,000 to the fund as a condition of probation. Proposed language in §558.019 refers only to misdemeanor probation, however §559.021 does not appear to be limited to only misdemeanors. Willful failure to pay could result in the revocation of probation and incarceration.

Currently, the DOC cannot predict the number of new commitments which may result from the creation of the offenses(s) outlined in this proposal. An increase in commitments depends on the utilization by prosecutors and the actual sentences imposed by the court.

If additional persons are sentenced to the custody of the DOC due to the provisions of this legislation, the DOC will incur a corresponding increase in operational cost either through incarceration (FY01 average of $35.78 per inmate, per day or an annual cost of $13,060 per inmate) or through additional supervision provided by the Board of Probation and Parole (FY01 average of $3.34 per offender, per day or an annual cost of $1,219 per offender).

At this time, the DOC is unable to determine the number of additional inmate beds that may be required as a consequence of passage of this proposal. Estimated construction cost for one new medium to maximum-security inmate bed is $55,000. Utilizing this per-bed cost provides for a conservative estimate by the DOC, as facility start-up costs are not included and entire facilities and/or housing units would have to be constructed to cover the cost of housing new commitments resulting from the cumulative effect of various new legislation, if adopted as statute.

In summary, supervision by the DOC through incarceration or probation would result in additional costs. The exact fiscal impact to the DOC is unknown and cannot be estimated.

The Phelps County Clerk assumes the revenues generated, based on $3.00 fee, would be $5,000 per year. The costs incurred would also be $5,000. The county would experience offsetting revenues and costs, resulting in no fiscal impact.

In response to a similar proposal from the 2001 session (HB 835), the Callaway County Circuit Clerk stated that if the contribution to the Crime Reduction Fund is in addition to the court cost and fine then there would be no loss of income to any fund, however, if the contribution is in lieu of the court cost and fine then there would be a loss of revenue to the county, schools, crime victim compensation fund, law enforcement training fund, Prosecutor training fund, sheriff's retirement, court automation fund, etc. Officials assume that both court cost and fines would be assessed.

Oversight assumes that fiscal impact would depend upon several factors: 1) The County Commission would need to establish the Crime Reduction Fund, as allowed by this proposal; and 2) The amount of fiscal impact would depend on the number of cases the Court would suspend and require payment into the Crime Reduction Fund.

Oversight assumes that to the extent there is a reduction in fines on the local level, schools would receive more money in state aid due to the school aid formula. Therefore, the loss of fine revenues would be subsidized by the State's General Revenue Fund.

 Fiscal impact would be dependent upon the County Commission establishing a Crime Reduction Fund and upon the number of cases that would be suspended without a fine.

FISCAL IMPACT - Small Business

No direct fiscal impact to small businesses would be expected as a result of this proposal.

DESCRIPTION

The proposed legislation would allow county commissions to create county crime reduction funds and would specify the purposes for which the money in the funds can be spent.

The proposal would allow the court to order restorative justice methods in cases where there is a suspended imposition or execution of sentence and to order individuals who have a suspended imposition or execution of sentence for a misdemeanor to make a payment of up to $1,000 to the county crime reduction fund.

The proposal would allow the court to order a payment of up to $1000 to the county crime reduction fund as a condition of probation. A judge could only order such a condition of probation if the county crime reduction fund was established prior to sentencing. A judge could not have any direct supervisory or administrative over a fund to which he or she orders probationers to make payments. A defendant could refuse probation conditioned on the performance of free work or probation conditioned on a payment to a county crime reduction fund. Probation could not be revoked solely for failure to make payments to the fund, except under certain circumstances.

Monies in the fund could only be expended for the following purposes: (1) Narcotics investigation, prevention, and intervention; (2) Purchase of law enforcement equipment, and supplies for the sheriff's office; (3) Matching funds for federal or state law enforcement grants; (4) Funding for the reporting of all state and federal crime statistics or information; and (5) Any law enforcement related expense reasonably related to investigation, preparation, trial and disposition of criminal cases.

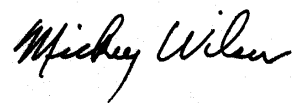

This legislation is not federally mandated, would not duplicate any other program and would not require additional capital improvements or rental space. This legislation would not affect Total State Revenue.
